The SUPPORT Art and Crafts International Centre of Thailand (Public Organization) or SACICT is a central organization that serves as the gateway for the expansion of these handicrafts to the global markets. It is also a design centre that provides assistance in terms of quality control, standards, preservation of the Thai identity, as well as innovative product development. In addition, it is an exchange where producers can meet local buyers and those from other countries.

Our main objectives are to promote and support an occupational integration in order to create a legion of folk arts and crafts in accordance with Her Majesty the Queen's initiatives and to expand a market for such products both locally and internationally.

Our duties is to organize craftsmanship competitions and the sale of products; develop and promote these products; promotes and supports marketing activities aimed at expanding local and international markets; build support networks among the various industries, while integrating modern technology into traditional techniques, develops myriad training programs for staff and students; and ensures that intellectual property rights are observed at all times.

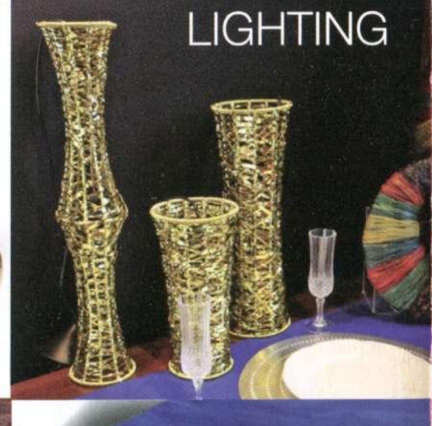

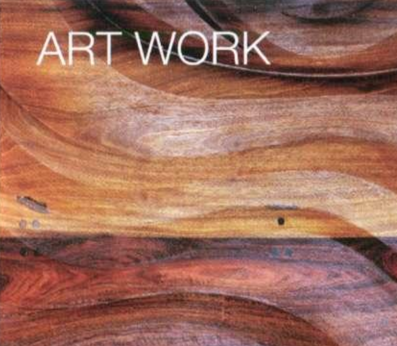

The Rustic Awakening

Collection

The "Rustic Awakening" collection is inspired by jewellery traditionally crafted and worn by the hill tribes of northern Thailand. Shapes and forms of these unique home decor and furnishings are influenced by their bangles and necklaces, such as the iconic long neck coils of Karen tribe women.
